*The series will regularly air on Wednesdays at 10 p.m. ET/PT

From award-winning writer/producer Craig Wright (“Lost,” “Six Feet Under”) OWN’s new drama “Greenleaf” centers on the journey of estranged daughter and disillusioned preacher Grace “Gigi” Greenleaf (Merle Dandridge, “The Night Shift”) who has returned home after 20 years on the occasion of the mysterious death of her sister, Faith (guest star Terri Abney, “Game of Silence”). As she reenters the world of Calvary Fellowship World Ministries, the Memphis megachurch run by her powerful parents Bishop James Greenleaf (Keith David, “Enlisted” and “Community”) and Lady Mae Greenleaf (Lynn Whitfield, “The Josephine Baker Story”), it becomes evident that things are not as virtuous as they seem and that the family’s outward display of faith hides sin and misdeeds.

(P) Tuesday, June 21 (10 p.m. – 11 p.m. ET/PT) Episode: A Time to Heal

In the series premiere, directed by executive producer Clement Virgo (“The Book of Negroes”), Grace “Gigi” Greenleaf (Merle Dandridge, “The Night Shift”) and her teenage daughter Sophia (Desiree Ross, “Falling Skies”) return home to Memphis after 20 years to pay respects after the mysterious death of Grace’s sister Faith (guest star Terri Abney, “Game of Silence”). The warm welcome home from Grace’s father, Bishop Greenleaf (Keith David, “Community”), is short-lived as the rest of the family doesn’t seem quite as thrilled to see her. When Grace reconnects with her Aunt Mavis (guest star Oprah Winfrey, “Selma”), she receives some shocking information about the Greenleaf family and the circumstances surrounding Faith’s death.

(P) Wednesday, June 22 (9 p.m. – 10 p.m. ET/PT) Episode: The Baptism

Grace (Merle Dandridge, “The Night Shift”) decides to move home under false pretenses in order to pursue the man she holds responsible for her sister’s death, but finds the realities of working in her family’s church again harder than she expected. Grace’s brother Jacob (Lamman Rucker, “Meet the Browns”) takes on more responsibilities at the church in response to her return home. Kevin (Tye White, “The People v. OJ Simpson: American Crime Story”) partners with a new acquaintance on a project and questions his and Charity’s (Deborah Joy Winans, “Whitney”) plans to have a baby. The Bishop (Keith David, “Community”) refuses to capitulate to Senator Banks’ (guest star Al Mitchell, “Survivor’s Remorse”) inquiries into the church’s finances.

Kerissa (Kim Hawthorne, “Rake”) and Jacob (Lamman Rucker, “Meet the Browns”) go on a double date and are confronted with the deficiencies in their marriage. Kevin (Tye White, “The People v. OJ Simpson: American Crime Story”), meanwhile, finds he has an unexpected – and unwanted – chemistry with Adrian (guest star Gary Weeks, “Allegiant”). Mavis (guest star Oprah Winfrey, “Selma”) has to deal with an employee stealing money from her club’s register while Senator Banks’ (guest star Al Mitchell, “Survivor’s Remorse”) escalating tactics in his inquiry into the church’s finances force the Bishop (Keith David, “Community”) into action.

The mayor calls in a favor, asking Calvary to take a controversial stance and publicly support a cop who shot and killed an unarmed teenager leaving the Bishop in a bind that could potentially split the church. Grace (Merle Dandridge, “The Night Shift”) is blackmailed by someone with upsetting information about her sister’s past while Sophia (Desiree Ross, “Falling Skies”) defies her mother’s order and sneaks out to attend a protest in honor of the young victim. Meanwhile, Jacob (Lamman Rucker, “Meet the Browns”) reluctantly attends couple’s counseling and finds the therapy useful, though not in the way Kerissa (Kim Hawthorne, “Rake”) had hoped.
