With the possibility of a sasquatch in their midst, the group of eight descends on one final location, hoping to lay eyes on an Appalachian Sasquatch.

TREEHOUSE MASTERS: Nature's Super HQ

World Premiere Friday, January 13 at 10 PM (ET/PT)

TV-PG

Pete heads to the lush forests of Genesee County, Michigan to the For-Mar Nature Preserve and Arboretum to build a treehouse that will teach environmental education to the masses. The Nature Preserve created "the Preservers" – an environmental superhero comic – as a fun way to inspire kids to learn about and respect the wonders of Mother Nature; this structure will also act as their headquarters. Set 12 feet high, this treehouse features a whopping 180-foot-long ramp – including five separate platforms – and trees inside the treehouse itself! This trip even inspires Pete to channel his tree-whispering abilities and become a superhero himself.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 14th

Parolee Joe is left shaken after separating two stray dogs fighting outside the shelter.

FINDING BIGFOOT: Hawaii's Little Provider

World Premiere Sunday, January 15 from 9-11 PM ET/PT

TV-PG

Intrigued by tales of two-to-three-foot tall creatures, Menehunes, roaming the Hawaiian Islands, the team travels to the beautiful Aloha State to delve deeper into this mystery. A town hall meeting further cements their beliefs that Menehunes live in the jungles of Hawaii, so the team disperses across three islands to investigate further. With the help of local guides, Ranae and Matt tackle the Big Island as Cliff heads to Oahu, and Bobo follows up with witnesses in Kaua'i. After scouring all three islands, the team regroups for one final overnight in Hawaii's impenetrable forests in hopes to find the elusive creatures.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 20th

TREEHOUSE MASTERS: Glasshouse Treehouse

World Premiere Friday, January 20 at 10 PM (ET/PT)

TV-PG

Pete and his team trek to Callicoon, New York to build a treehouse for workaholics John and Christina. John, a restaurateur, and Christina, an interior designer, yearn for a space to be the perfect blend of work and relaxation, aesthetically echoing a greenhouse they constructed at their former property. Christina, especially, has been planning for this glasshouse treehouse, hoarding a stash of reclaimed windows she collected throughout the years. And it's her hodgepodge of mismatched, oddly shaped vintage windows that transform this seemingly simple, yet elegant four-walled structure into a labyrinthine, geometric mind-bender that only a master carpenter can solve. For the first time ever, Pete works hand-in-hand with his client to dazzle the decor, culminating in a one-of-a-kind shimmering glasshouse in the sky.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 21st

A couple from Arkansas comes to Villalobos to adopt a dog, but they have a difficult time deciding on one. And, after being rescued by VRC staff, a badly injured dog is discovered to be the missing pet of a concerned owner.
